

Conservation Through Innovation

“Committed to restoring and conserving America’s streams, wetlands and wildlife habitats”

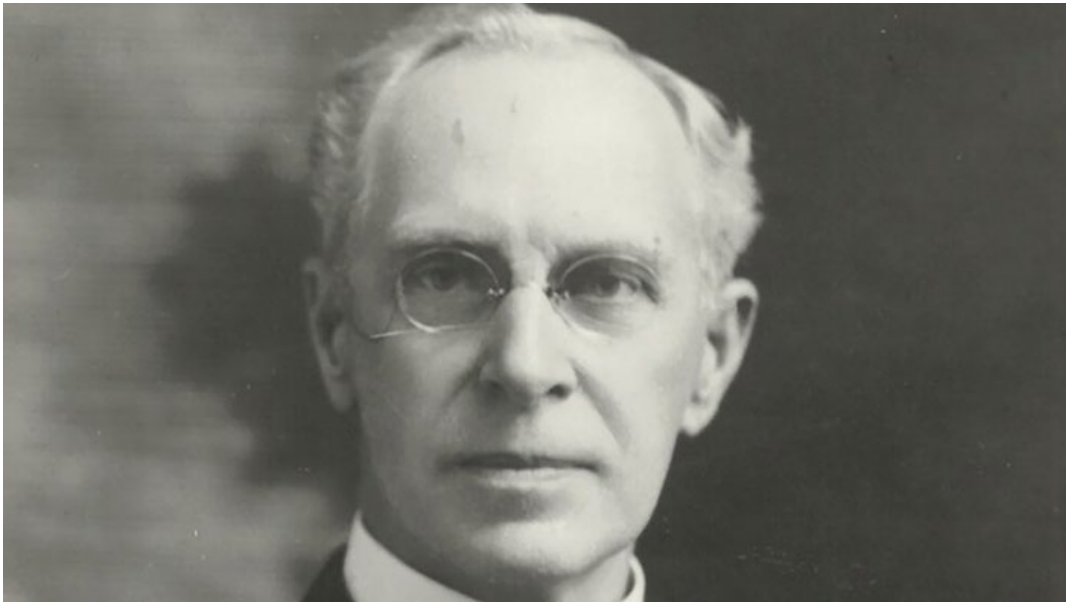

ABOUT ME

- Born & raised in Boaz, AL
- Auburn University, Harbert College of Business graduate
- Married Morgan 15 years ago, who happens to be a farm girl from Dallas County, AL
- Two children, Mary Lyle (13), Carter (10)
- Why did I choose Westervelt?
 - First duck hunt, age 4 with my father
 - Inspired passion for the outdoors which carries through to my family today
 - As a mitigation representative, it combines personal interests with my professional responsibilities through conservation

HISTORY OF WESTERVELT

Herbert E. Westervelt, Founder

Mildred Westervelt Warner, President 1938

Ray Redmond, Wildlife Manager

Jack Warner, President

Our Mission

Westervelt Ecological Services

Westervelt Ecological Services looks to further the TWC mission through the restoration and long-term land stewardship of ecological habitats for the continuing benefit of future generations.

Our Solutions

Mitigation and Conservation Banks

Full-Delivery Mitigation

Habitat Planning Services

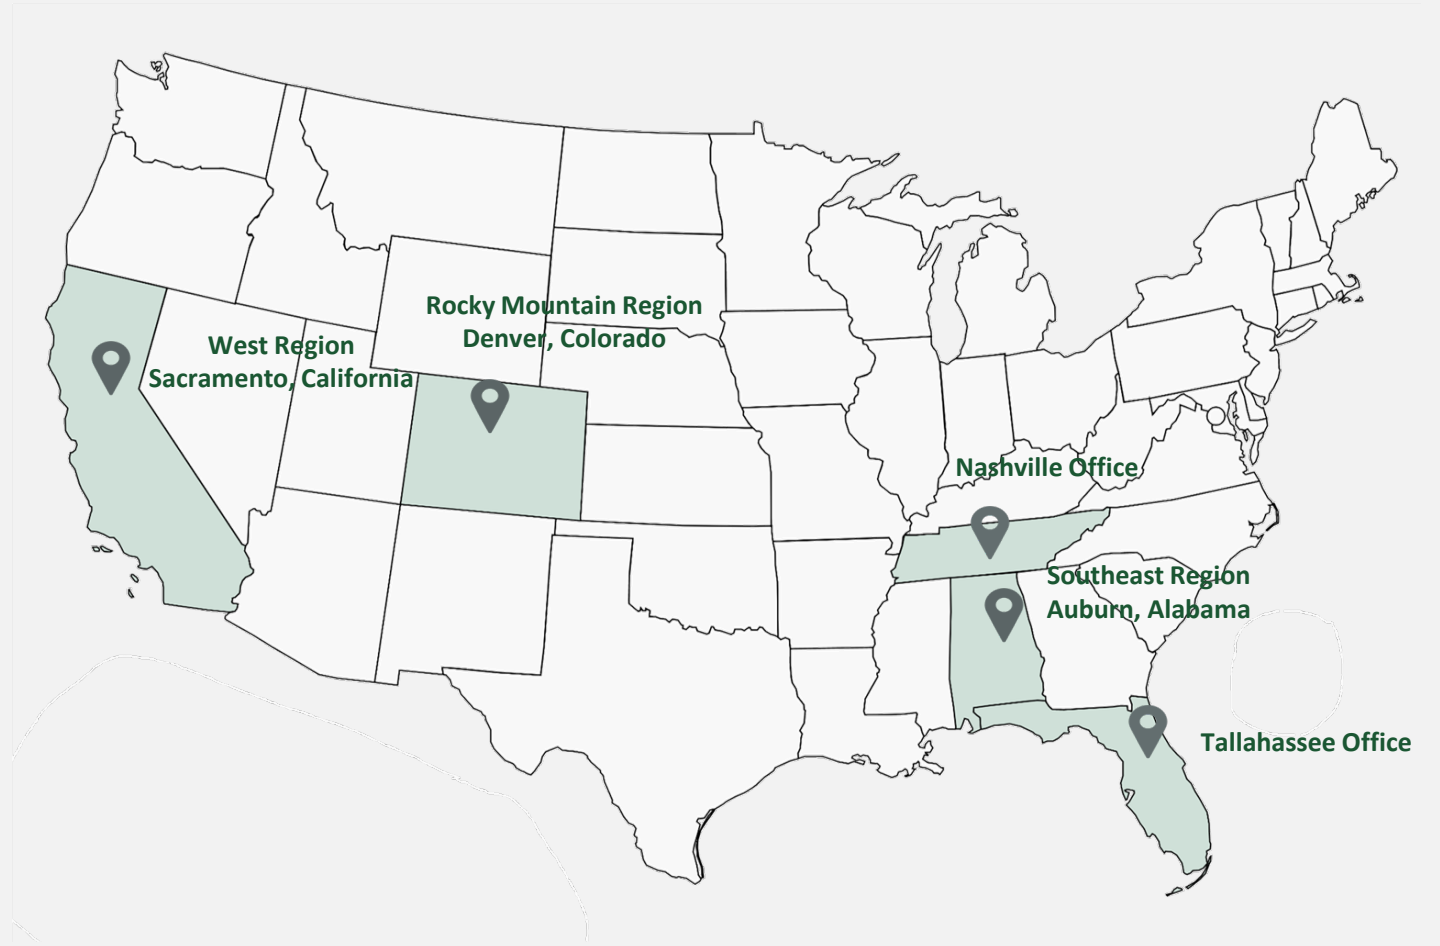

Partnerships

Mitigation Evaluations

Where We Work

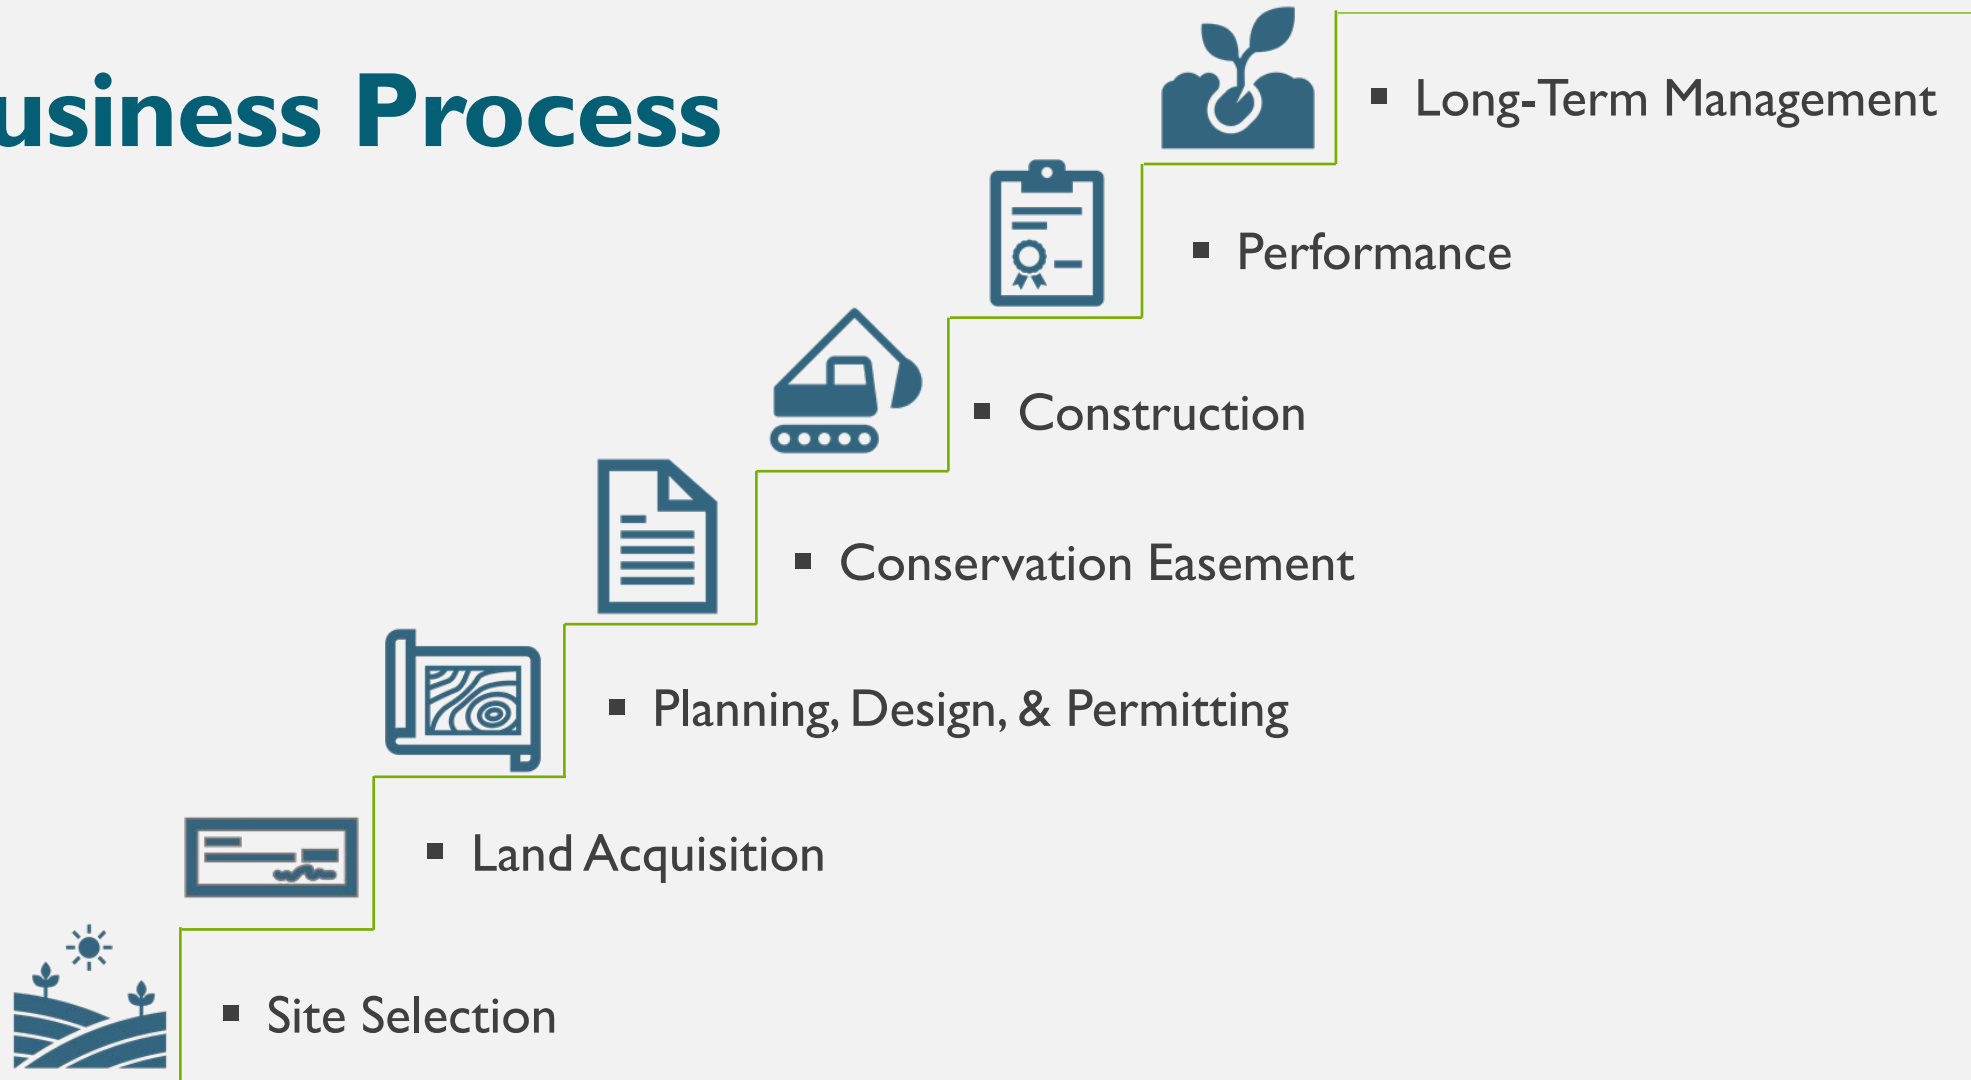

What Service Do We Provide

- We are mitigation providers and practitioners.
- We develop our own projects and offer mitigation solutions to our clients.
- Satisfy CWA requirement

Our Business Process

Our Restoration Numbers

~30,000

Acres Managed / Protected

58+

Miles of Stream
Permanently Protected

1.4MM+

Trees Planted

~9,360

Acres Managed
by Prescribed Fire

47

Protected Species and Species of Special Concern
Managed

How Can We Serve You?

- Brand Recognition with agencies
- Trusted Advisor on Mitigation credits
- Early communication is KEY

QUESTIONS?

wesmitigation.com

Casey Rigsby

Business Development, Southeast Region

crigsby@westervelt.com

C: (334) 339-0010